Cory Family

Congratulations on your purchase of the book, Cory's of America. My aim and goal is to collect as much historical and genealogical information as I possibly can during my life time and place that information in the Mormon Church Archives. The Mormon Church has the largest repository of historical, genealogical, and governmental records of any place in the world. Their goal and commitment is to preserve this information in perpetuity. This book and the data base in which it came shall be deposited in these archives. This book will be placed in the Library of Congress, National Cory Family library, and as a donation to many genealogical libraries through out the United States.

CORRIGENDUM

Webster Dictionary : gerundive of: [Corrigere to correct]; an error in a printed work discovered after printing and shown with its corrections on a separate sheet.

In the compilation of this book I had to rely on many sources of information. The records of our ancestors as written by them and others, court house records not quite legible, bits and scraps of paper from old documents and of course the input of so many of our beloved cousins. I am sure we rely on the information we have and that which we have received from others, but if I receive five pedigree charts there will be three different dates on some events. Most of us in our early days, especially me, while researching, did not keep a record of our sources of informat , therefore in this record t. e are bound to be many mistakes in spelling, recording of dates of birth, death marriages and other important happenings. Please lets set the records straight. I am asking you the reader to send me your corrections for this record. You must substantiate your information. By that I mean bible and family records of your direct line. A lot of us rely on the work of others, that is not always the correct information, as we are now finding out as more records and files are being found and being made available to us by the court houses and libraries.

CORRIGENDA AND ADDENDA

Starting in the October issue of the News Letter there will be a new feature. I will publish the input received as to the corrections to the book. That way the recipients of the news letter will be able to correct their books. When you send in your corrections please refer to a page number, file number and in the case of children their parents. New information shall be placed in the data base to be published in the second edition of the book, "Lord Willing and the Creeks don't rise" hopefully in 1994. Most likely the next edition will be two volumes and the way information is coming in maybe three. Keep that info coming.

ORDER AND REORDER INFORMATION

To reorder, the price of the book shall be 47.00 plus $3.00 shipping Total $50.00, until supply runs out. There is a doubt that this Edition will be reprinted, due to cost of small runs.

For those of you who would like a personal record of your Family line from the youngest in the Family back to the Progenitor, the price shall be $1.00 per generation. Please send history and your children and their children so we can get you all in. The information shall be presented in a spiral bound book. Please take note of the book called My Mothers side of the Family, It is called Ancesterial format. The book is in the Descendant format

NATIONAL CORY FAMILY SOCIETY

The National Cory Family Society was formed to provide a base in which to meet our cousins through out the Americas and provide companionship and love of our fellow man. We have a reunion every year, this year 1991 will be in Beaver County Pa, next year will be in Salem Mass for the 300th anniversary celebration of the 1792 witch craft trials when Giles Cory was pressed to death and his wife Martha was hung as a witch.
The Society sends out a quarterly news letter, providing a forum for your queries and general historical information.
(The dues are $10.00 per year)
Send in your dues to me or the Treasurer, Mrs Donald Hester, 1123 N. Cambrian Ave, Bremerton Wa. 98312.

PREFACE

This book, Cory's of America, started out many years ago as a family history pamphlet. Then as the interest grew I started my research, not knowing that I was into genealogy and the Virus it carries with it. I started to research my family line working back to John I, more research in to the families of the direct lines, the associated families, my mothers family and it seems any one else's family that happened to come along. I had planned on working on the supposed brothers of John I ie: William, Giles and Thomas but things were going very slow and the interest just wasn't there until I volunteered to help as a librarian at a local Mormon library. Once I started to research their files I found many old manuscripts that were filed away, hard for any one to find or see if they didn't know they were there or taken the time and inclination to look. All of James Enos Cory's work was there, Harry Harmon work, the Dickenson work and many of the associated family lines with reference to the Cory's. Then along came the National Cory Family Reunion at Westfield. With my Wife Marilee, we took the Cory research trip, New York, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Vermont, Connecticut and back through Southold Long Island, home of John I and on to Westfield New Jersey.

Westfield was and is the home of the Cory's for many generations starting in the early 1700's and to the present day. There is a home in Westfield that belonged to many generations of Cory's and Millers. This home to day is a working museum depicting the life and times of the settlers of that period. They have in their possession a large journal, hand written by a member of the Cory Clan. This Journal, over 250 pages, contain family data on William Cory of Tiverton Lines. In this Journal the name is spelled COREY through out. The good people of this museum made copies of this journal for me to use in the preparation of this book.

Now my interest is at the peak. At the meeting I announced that I would compile a book on the American Cory's, but would need help on the research. As editor of the Cory Family News Letter I kept up a steady barrage of "help me", by asking for your family group sheets and pedigree charts. You all have participated in the writing of this book and even though the names are to numerous too list, let me thank all of you, with out your help this book could not be possible.

The contents in this book is to be used for information purposes only, just a place to start your own research. Not to be used for verification for societies such as Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution, Daughters and Sons of the War of 1812 or any other society. Information and dates were supplied by many and not verified by me. The Name CORY is synonymous with COREY, CORAY and CORRY. I have received many pedigree charts with names spelled all ways, in fact the journal from Westfield, all names were spelled COREY.

This book is the first Edition. I am requesting that you make your corrections in spelling, birth and death dates, marriage dates and any other you can verify, send them to me so I may up date the data base, prior to submitting to the archive of the Mormon church. This up dated data base will be published, as Cory's Of America second edition, target date 1994

INTRODUCTION

THE CORY FAMILY ORIGIN

In the time of Malcolm I, King of the Scots, the people of the Province of Morya, in the northeast of Scotland, were of a mixed race, being formed of Scots, Pics, Celts and Scandinavians. The CORY family is stated to be of Pictish, or Scandinavian origin. The name was taken from Cori, once a Roman fort at Annandale, in the shire of Dunfries Scotland, as mentioned in William Anderson's "Scottish Nation." It had its derivation from the Latin word Koria, or Coria, meaning the "core," or heart, the source of vital activity. Evidently, our surname began to come into use long before men took their names from localities, in which they lived, as well as from occupations, mental traits, physical features and other chance incidents. Most of then, as we find, are evolved from earlier forms.

However,the word corri, or correi itself is Gaelic, signifying a bowl shaped hollow on a hillside, in which game usually lies. It also was applied to a narrow valley, glen, or dale, to which a royal adherent was attached, or belonged, such as, for instance, in the eleventh century, Peter de Corry, i.e, Peter "of the Valley or Glen"; Thomas de Torthorwald, i.e.,Thomas "of the Orest-Sumer-Thunder," and so on. It too, became a fixed name of an old Parish, a river or lake, and so forth in the district of Annandale, as "Corey Glaire."etc.,at that time. It also was used to designate a station, fort, or castle, under other graphical spelling.

That the CORY family is an ancient one, no matter what its origin, and is evidenced by the fact that Karre is among the names included in Hollingshed's copy of the "Roll of Abbey," A.D. 1066. William the Conqueror, when making the Norman conquest, brought a host of adventurers across the Channel to England and for their part in the battle of Hastings, he awarded them the sequestrated estates of the Saxton lords in the valley of Annan. Settling there, they intermarried with the Bruces, Maxwells, Carlyles, Grahams and other families. After they had obtained a foothold in the shire of Dumfries, the county of Cumberland and below, became English. The rivers Esk and Sark and a morass called Solway Moss, afforded an effectual barrier against the raids of the natives of Scotland. How warlike they were is judged by the marks of fortresses and encampments one finds here and there along the boundary line, which were set up by the Romans for the purpose of defence. The English along the border were just as rude and probably as aggressive as their neighbors over the line, so there never existed long periods of peace between them.

It appears that before the year 1165, the baronial lands of the Corries in upper Annandale had belonged to Henry de Graham, Lord of Hotoun (Hutton), which adjoined to the old parish of Corrie because, about that year, he made a grant to Sir David de Torthwald of his lands of Upper Dryfe, and among the witnesses to the grant is "Henricus de Graham, Filius Rodolphi de Corrie". This naturally raises the question whether or not the Corrie family had been originally "Grahams of Dryfe." According to an ancient usage of the border of Scotland, the oldest son and heir alone had the right to the paternal name and coat of arms, while the younger sons were free to take any name they chose. This custom also was followed by the Highland clans. First one of the names to be recorded is found in the seal of one Peter de Curri, or Corrie, with the Corrie crest, a griffin's head, attached to a charter of Melrose in 1170. This probably was the seal of the father of Peter de Corrie, who fought at the battle of Larges, thirty-eight miles from Glasgow, on the second and third of October in 1263. Challenging Haco, King of Norway, to a single combat, he was slain by Nicholson, one of the chiefs in the Norwegian army. Bain tells, in his "Collection of Documents," relating to Scotland, A.D. 1108-1272, that: The Corries, in common with most of the other land-owning families of Dumfriesshire, would seem to have been located in Cumberland, occupying certain lands there, for which the princes of Scotland were wont to do homage and service to the Kings of England, as lords-paramount of this ancient Scottish principality.

By the old records, it is seen that the Corries were men of importance and responsibility. Hugh de Corrie was with the Court of William, the Lion, in Edinburgh, 1165-1214. According to "Duchy of Lancaster Records," in 1194 and 1214, his name is affixed as witness to two deeds by William de Fruis, or Bruce, and Bain's "Collection of Documents" gives his name as first in the list of the Annandale witnesses to a charter of Robert de Bruis, or Bruce, A.D. 1218.

In 1243, "Robert de Corrie is witness to a charter."

In 1271, Nicholas de Corrie was steward at Annandale. The magistrate, appointed by the Crown to the office of sheriff, received the name of steward, probably on account of the large revenue which, it was his duty to collect from lands which, when held by the tenure called "regality," or with royal privileges, fell to the Crown by forfeiture, or failure of heirs to pay into the exchequer. Nicholas is witness, with Thomas de Torthorwald, to a charter in 1290.

MacDowell, in his "History of Dumfries,"writes thus of the retreat of the English from the castle of Sanquhar, when it was skillfully attacked and won by William Wallace's Follower, Sir William Douglas, in 1296. The English retreated towards Dumfries in woeful plight. Thoroughly disorganized and panic-stricken, the fugitives passed the town. The Castle did not open its gates to succor them, and the last baleful drop was thrown onto their cup when a body of Dumfriessians, made up of Kirkpatricks, Corries (Walter de Corrie being constable of Dumpries), Johnstones, Hollidays and Maxwells, joined in the hot chase against them. The pursuit was kept up as far as Cockpool upon the Solway and the waters of the firth received many into its fatal embrace. Some were slaughtered, many were drowned, and only a few escaped to the opposite side with there lives.

Johnsone's "Historical Families" mentions that, in 1306,Gilbert de Corrie was hereditary keeper of Lochdoon Castle.In Dugdale's"Baronage," Adam de Corry, Keeper of the castle of Lockmaben, and Walter de Corry appear as witness to a charter of lands in Annandale from Edward Baliol, who called himself King, to Henry Percy

Thus, three of the Corries were intrusted with the responsibility for three of the chief fortified castles in the years 1291, 1303 and 1333, namely Walter de Corrie, constable of Dumfries, Gilbert deCorrie, hereditary keeper of Lochdoon, and Adam de Corrie, Keeper of Lochmaben. After remaining for a long time in the possession of the de Torthwalds. the lands of the Corries and Over Dryfe passed into the control of the Carlyles, Knights and Lords Carlyle of Torthorwald but the name of Corrie, or Corry did not become extinct there. MacDowell says,"the Corries took their name from the old Annandale parish of Corrie, where they first appeared as vassals of Robert the Bruce," and by degrees, they loomed out of the mist to become visible as one of the formidable clans of these times.

Though spelling was originally Corrie, the name since has undergone many changes, viz: Cori, Corie, Corrie, Corey, Currie, Curry, Corry, Corye, Cory, Coray, Korry, Kori, etc. In Scotland, as well as in England. The name of one family is spelled nine different ways. These names are met with not only in the old Scottish and English records, but also in the various "Visitations of England."

That the Corries were men of energy and enterprise can be gauged by the fact that they spread and settled in all parts of the British Isles, and later dispersed to every part of the world. In Ireland, a clan grew out of John Corrie, a native of Dumfriesshire, who settled in Belfast earlier than 1650 and became a "merchant free of the staple," as two Ulster manors--of Finagah, in the county of Tyrone, and of Coole, otherwise known as Manor Atkinson. In the county of Fermanagh--are mentioned in the history of the Corry family, by the Earl of Belmore. A branch of the family of Duffryn became the Corys of Llantarnam Abbey, in the county Monmonth, England, and of St. Lythans, in the county of Glamorgan, Wales, belonging in the Cory family of Levington, Cumberland, and descending from the marriage, temp, King John, of Sir Walter de Cory to the eventual heiress of Levington family in Cumberland, and bore arms, founded on the Levington arms, similar to the arms of Cory in Devonshire, and also of those in Norfolkshire. In the latter end of the reign of Richard II, a branch settled in the former shire, and another sprang up in Norfolk. the family of the Manor of Duffryn took its name from the Village of Great Cory (formerly Corie), near Lanceston, in the county of Cornwall England, where, up to the commencement of the present century, some of the descendants still remained.

By traditions, brought down from our forefathers, we are told that we are Scotch descent, and that the Corys in England are of the same origin--the valiant Corrie clan that served gallantly under the warring Scottish chieftains. An old manuscript, now at Thirlestane House, Cheltenham, England, has this reference to the Corries; The family of Corry was formerly remarkable in Scotland for their "Valor by ye frequent warrs whych sometymes hap(p)ened betwe(e)ne England and Scotland, and bareth in their Coate of Arms: Argent a saltire Couped Gules, etc." Captain Robert Riddell, of Glenriddell and Frairs Carse, tells in his writings, under date of July 18, 1788, that many old families in the landship of Annandale and neighborhood, took for arms a saltire and chief, in compliment to the Bruces, such as the Lords Maxwell the Lairds of Johnstone, Torthorwald of that ilk, and the Corries, or Curries of that ilk, who carried a saltire argent Couped Gules."
An old paper, now out of print, called "Dryfesdale Olde Church Yard," contains the legendary and popular traditional history of Sir John de Corrie, of Corrie, and of his prodigious feats of strength and high Valor, under the command of Sir William Wallance, "who knighted him upon the tented field. All historians of Scotland mention five families as being preeminent at the period between 1200 and 1400 A.D., viz: The Bruces, the Baliols, the Gremes, the Carliles, and the Corries all who seem to have been landowners in Dumfriesshire. Some of them were allied closely by marriage, as an instance is cited from C.L. Johnstone's "historical Families of Dumfiesshire and the order Wars," given in the following: The second son of Sir William de Carlile and Margaret Bruce, was killed at the battle of Durham, in 1346, leaving one child Susanna, who was afterwards married to Robert Corrie. A charter, in favor of brother William de Carlile from Robert Bruce, styles him the King's sister's son; and another, dated at Melrose 1363, from David II in favor of Susanna Carlile and her husband Robert Corrie, calls the deceased Thomas Carlile the King's blood relation, and grants to his daughter and her spouse the lands along the Southern coast of Dunfriesshire, which belonged to her grandfather. Robert Cory, of "Bramerton Hall," who lived near Norwich, England, in 1399, was the identical Sir Robert de Corrie, the husband of Lady Susanna Carlile. Sir Robert's wife Susanna Carlile was the granddaughter of a sister of Robert 1, King of Scotland. Her descent can be traced through the fighting Bruces, and by the way of the wife of Malcolm III, King of Scotland St. Margaret, up to Alfred the Great, and by J.S. Wurts, Magna Charta to the Emperor Charlemagne 743 A.D.

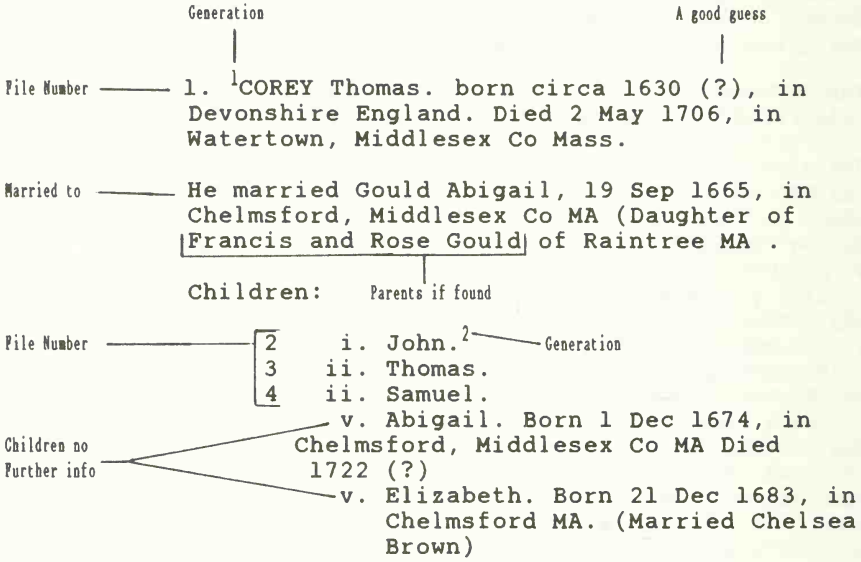
Here in America, it is generally supposed that the name at first, was spelled CORY, then changed, at an early date, to Corey, Coree, or Coray, following in this, the example of the puritans who, on leaving England during the Protectorate of Cromwell, altered the orthography of their names, possible to escape identity in case of pursuit into this country. The natural question is: "From where did all these CORY's come?" Their landing in New England, as well as their places of nativity across the seas, from which they came, is a query not as yet solved. The New England Historic Genealogical, published in July of 1890, has a statement to the effect that the missing Boston custom house records from 1628 to 1780, were removed from Boston by the Tories during the British evacuation, carried to Halifax, Nova Scotia, and then transferred to London England. If these records could be found, they might show numerous arrivals in Massachusetts bay, doubtless in the list would be the early Corys. We do know that from legal documents available to us, that the original spelling for John of Southold, William of Tiverton and Thomas of Chelmsford was CORY. I have come across many name changes, mostly just before, during or after a war. One man changed his name from Cory to Corey just to have something to do, his brother changed his name just because his brother did.

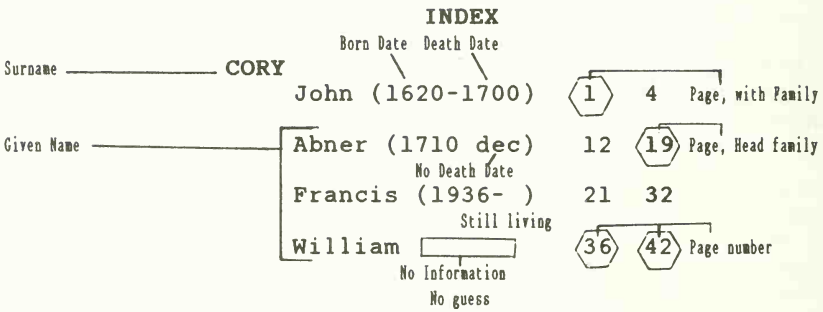
Just where the Cory's of America came from, especially John, William and Thomas, at this writing cannot be proven, but there is research going on at the present time. The present day researchers will come up with something new, or, shall we live with the past Cory historians declaration, that John, Thomas and William were brothers and came from Bramerton, out side of Norwich England. Was their father the Sir Thomas Cory, Chief Prothotory of the Common Please in the Queen's Temple and was Knighted and granted Coat of Arms, March 18, 1639, during the reign of King Charles I. I mean to find out prior to the printing the second Edition of this book.

HOW TO USE THIS RECORD

FIRST GENERATION



In the Index, find your page number by your name. This will put you with your family. Your Fathers or Mothers ID will be will help you to find their parents etc. Each file number must have a parent back to the Progenitor.



Birth and death dates are not always accurate, but within generation, a must for the help in finding one John out of 100 in the index.

CORY'S OF AMERICA BOOK ONE JOHN OF SOUTHOLD

PREFACE

This book traces thirteen Generations of descendants of John Cory (1611-1684). In this book we start at Southold, Long Island New York. John is said to have lived in Rhode Island, Massachusetts and Connecticut prior to going to Southold Long Island, with Rev John Youngs. There he lived and died. He was a Whale Commissioner in 1644. He was a Founding member of the First Presbyterian Church, founded at Southold in 1640. We believe John was a brother to William and Thomas. We believe he is a descended from the Cory's from Bramerton Hall, Norwich England. There are no records of those facts or of his arrival in the America's. There is an old record that mentions the arrival of three ships from England, two have landed (there is a passenger list) and one to arrive in about two days, (no record of that ship arriving). He and his brothers could have been on that ship.

I welcome any corrections or substantial input to add to this record to be put into the Cory data base, for further submittal to the archives of the Mormon Church for our future generations research.

1. [1] CORY John I. Born, 9 Oct 1611 (?), in Bramerton Hall, Norwich ENG. Died, 7 Mar 1684/5, in Southold, Suffolk Co LI NY (Buried in Southold, Suffolk Co LI NY). Occupation: Weaver. Just where John I came from, in the old world, as of now, can not be proven satifactory or strong enough to say at this time. Some of the first researchers of the Cory Genealogy tried to prove that he came from Bramerton Hall near Norwich England. It is also believed that he came to America about 1637. He may have lived in Salem Massachusetts and Rhode Island prior to going to Long Island, NY. We believe that John was one of the men who assisted John Youngs on October 21 1640 in the orginazation of the first (Presbyterian) church at Southold L.I. NY.. John Cory is mentioned as of being fron Southold and as the Whale Commisioner 7 March 1644..... The Will of John CORY I, dated 1 February 1685. Proved 2 October 1685.. Died, 6 Jan 1860, in Iowa Center, Story Co IA. Isaac Walker, Jerimiah's oldest son and his wife Mariah Phebus, starred out to Iowa with five children. They had two die on them on the way there and a short time after they had arrived they lost another child. In October 1846 they settled in a trappers old cabin and stayed there for the first year. The cabin had no doors or windows. The only entrance was through the roof. They wrote back to their parents about the cold winter, Indians and about the opportunity to settle the new land with the rich soil. They told of all kinds of wild fruits and berries, wild life of all kinds, good water and good land. Jerimiah, wife Dorothy and some of the children came two years after Isaac. There was about forty in the second group, not all Cory's. In October 1848 Jerimiah and Isaac purchased the land around where they first settled and started the settlement known as Cory Grove. The Church and a cemetery was started in 1850, there is still services and burials there to day, 1991.

Died, 21 Oct 1865, in Sac City, Sac Co IA (Buried at the Cory Grove Cemetary in Sac County Iowa). Occupation: Farmer. Francis was born and raised on the Cory farm in Crawford Co Ohio until his marriage to Isabelle Hitchcock February 8th 1838. That same year he and his bride moved to Hardin County Ohio, to settle down and raise their family. Francis was a justice of peace in Harden Co in 1840. In the spring of 1854, Francis, his wife Isabelle and seven sons pulled up stakes and started West. They had one wagon with two yoke of oxen, they traveled in easy stages, hunting, fishing and with seven boys much exploring. It is written that Isabelle could handle team of oxen and rough it with the best of the pioneers. They crossed the Mississippi River at or near Clinton Iowa on the 4th of July 1854. They camped near Anamosa Iowa and waited for six weeks for other families who were also preparing to settle in the new lands. On the 4th day of September 1854 the five families arrived and made camp at the big spring east of where Sac City now stands. These families comprised the only white residents of Sac County in the Winter of 1854 and 1855. The sunday following their arrival Isabelle crossed the river, (Now called the Coon River) and climbed the hill to a site of the present Methodist Church. She knelt in prayer and ask God to send his gospel and plant his church in this new land. From the camp at big spring the men scattered out to stake their claims. Francis located his clain near the present location of the Cory Grove Cemetary. They immediately built a small log cabin; every stick and piece which went into the construction was hewn out by hand. Much of the furniture was made by hand from branches and boards smoothed by tha adz. The first winter was very mild or the settlers probably would not of survieved. The game was plentiful, they also ate boiled corn, wheat and the wild fruits and berries the had preserved during their travels in the summer. The Souix Indians were friendly at that time and hunted with the white men. after the hunt there would always be a shooting match for the game killed, the white men making a point always to win, thus letting the Indians know they were good marksmen. This band of Indians was famous band of Souix headed by Inkapadoto, who later committed depredations along the Souix River and massacred the people at Spirit Lake Iowa. Francis was among the first members of the Grand Jury to recieve a warrent, he was elected treasure April 7, 1856. The boys grew up in an natural invirment of hunting and fishing. Beaver dams were plentiful, Deer and Elk roamed the prairies and all through the timber there was wolf, fox, raccoons and just about any animal young boys wanted to hunt. The Cory boys had a team of trained elk which were great pets. The boys, during their idle moments trained the team which were sensible and as easily driven as a team of horses. It is recorded that the boys father sold this team of elk to a wandering trader for one hundred dollars. Not having the necessary cash on him he gave Francis a check for the amount on a Des Moines bank. Francis needing the money set out at once on horseback for Des Moines to cash the check, guess what! the bank had failed and he never did get his money.

CORY'S OF AMERICA BOOK TWO WILLIAM OF TIVERTON

PREFACE

William settled in Portsmouth, Rhode Island, in the early 1600's. He was a Carpenter and a Miller by trade. He raised a large family that pioneered the region of Tiverton, Portsmouth and New Port, Rhode Island. We follow that family in this book to the present twelfth generation. We have no documented proof as to the origin of William, but it is believed that he was a brother to John and Thomas a descendant of the Bramerton Hall Cory's in Norwich England.

Corrections to this data base are welcome, please be sure of your information and send on to me. If you or your family are not in this record, send in your pedigree charts and family group sheets, for the next and final edition.

CORY'S OF AMERICA BOOK THREE THOMAS OF CHELMSFORD

PREFACE

Thomas of Chelmsford is said to be born in Devonshire England in 1630. That makes it hard to substantiate that he came to the America's with John and William. But never the less he could possibly be the son of Sir Thomas of Bramerton Hall, this has to be proven. We need more information on this family line, please send in your pedigree charts and family group sheets to further expand this book. We have ten generations traced, you must fit in there some where.

CORY'S OF AMERICA BOOK FOUR OTHER CORY LINES

PREFACE

This book starts out with the fictitious name of Anonymous, this is used as a base to tie the "other" Cory lines in to one data base. With out this method the there would be many separate lines. The Progenitors and their file numbers are listed on page one, first generation. If research ties in one of them to a larger data base then they will be transferred. If the family line grows then we will start their family book for the next edition. Please send in your pedigree charts and family group sheets to be included in the next edition.

FIRST GENERATION

1. [1] ANONYMOUS. Born, before 1600, in ENGLAND. The name ANONYMOUSE is a fictious name to tie in the first generation of families found in America. This only means that as of the printing date of the first edition, the compiler can not connect these familys to the John, William or Thomas lines. The Families hereinafter shall stand on their own family line as members of the American Cory's.

He married an unknown woman. Children:

2 i. Giles[2].
3 ii. Samuel.
4 iii. Desire.
5 iv. William.
6 v. Isaac.
7 vi. Andrew.
8 vii. Samuel.
9 viii. Jacob.
10 ix. John L.
11 x. Calvin.
12 xi. William.
13 xii. Samuel.
14 xiii. James.
15 xiv. Samuel.
16 xv. Emanuel.
17 xvi. George W.
18 xvii. George S.
19 xviii. Andrew.
20 xix. Alvin.
21 xx. Thomas Grover.

SECOND GENERATION

2. [2] CORY Giles (Anonymous[1]). Born, circa 1609 (?), in Norfolk, England. Died, 16 Sep 1692, in Salem, Essex Co MA (Giles was pressed to death by due process of law.). Occupation: Farmer. Giles Corey, of Salem Massachusetts was murdered by "due process of law"(?) September 16, 1692 for refusing to plead to an indictment against him for (the imposible crime of) Witchcraft. When arranged before the court he refused to plead or answer questions, for he well knew what his fate would be in either case. So to avoid giving the prosecution any advantage, he would answer nothing, whereupon he was sentenced to be pressed to death. Hence, refusing to put himself on trial (no trial actually took place). His death was the result of his obstinacy and firmness with scarcely a parallel---certainly not in American annals. The Sheriff took Giles to an open field beside the jail and before the Court and witnesses in accordance with a English procedure of the "Peine forte et dure". They laid Giles to the ground, place a board on his chest, they then placed large rocks on the board. Giles was asked three times to plead innocent or guilty of witchcraft, to which he would say more weight. In the whole history of English law very few people had had the fortitude to "stand mute" and endure a penalty expessly designed to discourage such obstinacy. (Except in the cases of treason, conviction could not be obtained on a prisoner who stood mute) and with out conviction his property could not be confisticated. Therby his land was deeded to heirs. Giles Will: Written on the twenty fourth day of April anno dom one thousand six hundred ninety two, by Gyles Coree (his mark and seale). Personally appeared and did acknowledge this instrument to bee his act and voluntary deed. Signed sealed and delivered Ipswch July Ye 25th 1692. The Will so States "In consideration of which and for ye fatherly Love and Affection wch I have & doe beare unto my beloved soñe in Law William Cleeves of Ye town of Beaverly, in ye aboves county and to my soñe in law John Moulton of ye town of Salem in sd county both yeomen. The will goes on to state that Giles gives to these sons in Laws all his property, real and personal including stock, lands and meadow, house, bedding money and all movable estate.

FOURTH GENERATION

8. [4] BUSROE Father of George. Born in Hardin Co KY (There is no trace of the Busroe surname past 1825.). Died in Hardin Co KY. It is to be noted that the surname BUSROE has not been found, prior to the date on the certificate, Acene Busroe gave, on the Indenture of George William to Elliot Veech. It is also to be noted that in many years of research and searching that the Busroe name has not been found other than this family line.

He married BUSROE Seny (9). Children:

She married, second, JOHNSON John.

10. [4] WILLIS Bird Thomas (Owen[5]). Born, 1805 (?), in Scott Co KY. Died, 1880, in Hardin Co KY. Occupation: Planter. We first identify Bird on the 1810 census of his father Owen in newly formed Grayson County Kentucky. The last census we find Bird on is the 1880, he claimed that his age was sixty five but he was seventy five. He was married to a fifty one year old lady at the time, in fact in the marriage records of 1874 his age was listed 70 and Cathomi Nichols his bride was listed as 45. From all indications Bird was a planter with land holdings and had seven slaves in 1850. In the 1870 census we find that there were black land owners of some of the same land Bird held in 1860, there names were Willis.

He married, first, PHILIPS Emiline (11), 1830, in Grayson Co KY. Children:

She married CECIL John (43).

NINTH GENERATION

45. [9] WITTEN Thomas. Born, 1632 (?), in ENG. Died, 1710 (?), in Cecil Co MD. Thomas is the first Witten of record in America.: The Witten Family, had its origin in Germany, and there to this day we find the Cities of Witten, Wittenberg and Wittenberge. Witten is in the province of Westphalia on the Ruhr River; Wittenberg is in the province of Saxony on the Elbe River; and Wittenberge is in the district of Pottsdam, at the junction of the Stepenitz and Elbe rivers. However, English record show that long before this date (at least as early as the year 856 A.D.) members of the Witten family had come into England, and were living in Yorkshire. Some of their number held high ecclesiastical and civil offices. They became identified with the Anglow-Saxons who had conquered the Britons and gave the name England to ancient Britain. When King Henry VIII made England Protestant in 1534, the Witten Family divided: Part becoming Protestant, and the remainder staying within the Catholic Church. It was this latter branch which joined with Lord Baltimore, The Cecil,s and Calvert,s in emigrating from England to America, about 1632, to found the Catholic Colony of Maryland.

He married an unknown woman. Children:

44 i. Elizabeth[8].

TENTH GENERATION

49. [10] CECIL John. Born, 1634 (?), in ENG. Died, 1698 (?), in Cecil Co MD. John is the first known member of the Cecil family in America: The Cecils were of pure Celtic blood and natives of the British Isles. Those of them who imigrated to America were lineal descendants of Sir William Cecil, Lord Burghley, who for forty years was the chief Minister of England during the reign of Queen Elizabeth. Tradition and documentary evidence reveal that the progenitors of the Cecil's, in America emigrated from England to Maryland about 1634 with the Hon. Cecil Calvert, the second Lord Baltimore and the Wittens.
